

House I Forgot About

I live in a house I forgot about with furniture I barely remember the table has no chairs

the railing has no stairs and no water flows from the tap and no mail slips through the slot I live in a house I forgot about our doors grow smaller and smaller and many have disappeared our rooms are no longer there I live in a house I forgot about its front steps are everywhere.